Brazil

The Guanabara Confession of Faith was a Calvinist creed written in 1558. It was the first Protestant writing in Brazil, and in all of the Americas. It was written by the French Huguenots Jean du Bourdel, Matthieu Verneuil, Pierre Bourdon and André la Fon, who were arrested. Twelve hours after writing it, the authors were hanged by the Portuguese. Guanabara Confession of Faith - Wikipedia

Huguenot residents in the West Indies

The following is a list of Huguenots that I encountered while researching for my papers on Huguenots in the West Indies. It is not exhaustive as I did not seek out individuals unless they were making a notable contribution to the colonies. Nevertheless, most of those listed below were ordinary hard-working people.
